Family Portrait Style Guide

Here are a few things to consider when prepping for your upcoming family portrait...

Shirts and Sweaters

There's no need to be super "matchy" when selecting your outfits. Adding tops with different textures in a similar color range can add lots of visual interest to your images!

Color Scheme

We suggest you pick one or two colors that go well together and stick with solid colors. However, adding small pops of color to your outfits can make a big difference in the final product!

Layers

Adding layers of different fabrics and colors can be a great way to add some of your unique style to your family images! Just be sure that your colors and textures coordinate with each other.

Shoes

Make sure to think head to toe when planning your outfits. Adding in a great pair of shoes adds so much personality to your images!
